About VISIONS

Founded in 1926, VISIONS/Services for the Blind and Visually Impaired is a vision rehabilitation and social service nonprofit that provides services to over 8,000 individuals annually throughout New York City, Long Island, the Hudson Valley, and Northern New Jersey.

VISIONS provides services that help people across the spectrum of vision loss stay independent, confident, and connected to daily life, while also educating the public to understand their capabilities and needs. Services are provided in the home and community, at our Older Adult Center in Manhattan and at VISIONS Center on Blindness (VCB), our year-round residential facility in Spring Valley.

No one is turned away for an inability to pay for services thanks to government & foundation grants, our endowment, and private donations

Services are offered in 16 languages, including English, Spanish, Chinese dialects, Russian, and American Sign Language (ASL)

VISIONS programs are tailored to the individual needs of our participants

1 in 3 VISIONS staff members are blind or have a visual impairment

Board President and Chief Executive Officer Message

As Fiscal Year 2025 comes to a close on September 30, 2025, we are grateful for another year in which more than 8,000 New Yorkers who are blind or visually impaired received the services, skills, and support they needed to live more independently. Every achievement highlighted in these pages reflects the determination of our participants and the dedication of the staff, Board of Directors, volunteers, donors, and community partners who make VISIONS' work possible.

FY25 was a year of both transition and momentum for VISIONS. As we welcomed new leadership and continued building on the strong foundation established over the past century, our focus never changed: helping people of all ages with vision loss lead the lives they want. Across our programs, participants strengthened independent living skills, prepared for employment, embraced assistive technology, connected with their communities, and discovered new possibilities for themselves and their families. At the same time, VISIONS continued to evolve—expanding partnerships, responding to emerging needs, and positioning the organization for an even stronger future.

As we enter our Centennial year, we do so with deep appreciation for everyone who has helped shape VISIONS over the past 100 years. The need for high-quality vision rehabilitation and support services continues to grow, and we are inspired by the opportunities ahead. Together, we will continue advancing independence, expanding access to innovative services, and ensuring that people who are blind or visually impaired have every opportunity to live full, productive, and connected lives.

Thank you for being part of the VISIONS community and for helping us begin our second century with optimism, purpose, and an unwavering commitment to the people we serve.

New York City's vision rehabilitation agencies including VISIONS, Helen Keller Services, and Lighthouse Guild, along with the New York State Commission for the Blind hosted a career day for youth participants, featuring mock interviews, professional head shots, and prizes.

In 2025, our Equal Access to Healthcare presentations reached medical professionals in major hospital settings, including Northwell Health, Mount Sinai Hospital, and Staten Island University Hospital (SIUH)

The Nancy D. Miller Vocational Rehabilitation Center held four residential Employment Readiness Programs throughout 2025, helping participants jump start their career journeys.

Program Spotlight: Adaptive Living Program

Program Overview

VISIONS Adaptive Living Program (ALP) helps older adults with vision loss build the skills they need to live safely and independently at home. Through small group training and personalized follow-up, participants learn practical techniques for everyday tasks, from preparing meals and managing medications, to using technology and navigating their living spaces with confidence.

ALP combines hands-on instruction with peer connection, giving participants the chance to learn alongside others while building a supportive community. After completing the program, each participant receives individualized in-home training and connections to additional VISIONS services, ensuring skills are reinforced and sustained over time.

VISIONS Treasurer's Letter

To provide VISIONS services, we received funds from a number of sources. During the year we generated $13.9 million, excluding realized and unrealized gain on investments, without donor restrictions. In 2025 $15.8 million was appropriated for program services, up from $14.9 million in the prior year. Interest and dividends received equaled $2.3 million, same as last year. Contributions and special events were $1.2 million, down 25% from the previous year. Government support was $6.8 million, up 11% from the previous year. These major sources generated 99% of our total receipts with the remaining revenues derived from miscellaneous sources.

Operating expenditures for VISIONS fiscal year ended September 30, 2025 increased to $15.8 million compared to $14.9 million the previous year. Of this amount, $13.4 million (85%) was spent for program services at VCB, Selis Manor and in the many communities we serve. The financial statement shows the breakdown of this spending between our three programs. Management and general costs equaled 9% of our expenses while fund raising requirements were only 6%. Salaries and benefits comprised 78% of our total expenses.

VISIONS net assets increased 6.3% to $147.4 million. Of this amount, only 14% ($20.3 million) are unrestricted assets, with the remaining 86 % being permanently or temporarily restricted with substantial restraints attached to their use. Within the $20.3 million unrestricted is $7.4 million of fixed assets.

Since 1984, our financial statements have included sizable permanently restricted net assets. These net assets largely reflect endowment moneys known as "The Fund for the Blind," which is now a part of VISIONS. It is important to note several factors regarding the Fund so as to accurately interpret the data. The Fund for the Blind is a separate perpetual endowment fund operated within VISIONS by four independent self-perpetuating trustees, not by the VISIONS full board of directors. It was created by a court order upon the dissolution of an agreement with Beekman Downtown Hospital which transferred to VISIONS funds it's trustees had managed within Beekman. The order provided for VISIONS to receive the income of the Fund, gave the trustees complete control over its management and distribution in perpetuity and permitted additional distributions to VISIONS at the trustees' discretion. The Fund's assets, therefore, are not controlled by VISIONS nor freely available for its use and are not subject to VISIONS spending policies relating to permanently restricted assets. The trustees determine the amount of the Fund that will be made available for operations and, occasionally, the programmatic or capital uses of a portion of the funds. Restrictions exist which impede even the Trustees' ability to expend principal from The Fund for the Blind.

Other Ways to Support VISIONS

Join a Community Advisory Board

Organized by borough, members of VISIONS Advisory Boards help promote the issues important to the agency, represent VISIONS at community events, assist in raising funds to support the free services we provide, and help solicit new contributors for our annual fundraising events.

To learn more, email
agordon@visionsvcb.org

Volunteer at VISIONS Center on Aging

Volunteers may assist participants with reading mail, and other types of written materials, escorting them in the community for shopping and appointments, and helping in a variety of programs (arts & crafts, knitting, ceramics, and technology training).

To learn more, email
adeshazo@visionsvcb.org

Help Job seekers Gain New Work Readiness Skills

There are many ways to help make a difference in the lives of job seekers with visual impairments, including hosting an intern at your company, serving as a mentor, helping to facilitate a training for our participants, or hiring one of our qualified job seekers.

VISIONS does not sell or otherwise make available the names, addresses or phone numbers of our donors to anyone. However, donors of major gifts or grants may be thanked by name in the newsletter, in VISIONS Annual Report, on the VISIONS website, in other print materials such as brochures, or at appropriate events. If requested, we will refrain from thanking a donor publicly. VISIONS will honor all requests to be removed from our mailing list or to limit the mailings you receive from us. We appreciate the generosity of our supporters and are respectful of the privacy of our donors and friends.

VISIONS values your donations and encourages you to donate through our secure webpage, directly from your donor advised fund or bank account, mail us a check or call to make a credit card donation. VISIONS does not solicit donations door to door or use donation canisters. Please call 212-219-4072 if you want to make a donation, have any questions or suspect someone is soliciting donations improperly, to speak with Natalia S. Young, Chief Operating Officer, or email nsyoung@visionsvcb.org.
